

FCBCP Mentorship Program

Florida Coalition on Black Civic Participation has been a mentoring HUB for youth in communities across the state of Florida. FCBCP focus on youth that are ungovernable, runaway, truant, dealing with mental illness, in poverty, coming from or living in environments of domestic violence and/or drug abuse. We believe with genuine long term relationships we will put the youth on a positive path, to help avoid negative or harmful behaviors. Also showing them that there is someone who cares about them and their future, assures them they are not alone in dealing with day-to-day challenges, and makes them feel like they matter.

Why We do It

Many youth don't have access to positive role models, cannot envision a career, and don't feel connected to their communities. One out of every three young people who, outside of their family at home, don't have a trusted adult who they believe they can turn to for advice and guidance. Those who receive mentorship are more likely to see improved academic, social, and economic prospects. Those who mentor are able to further build important leadership, management and creative skills, while giving back to their community.

We want to be apart of that positive change in our youth, and are making the steps toward that through our mentorship program. FCBCP also offers Executive Mentoring to volunteers, interns and staff.
